Issue 74 : July 2014

Consultation about sustainable transport planning

The emerging East Riding Local Plan, and its associated documents, will identify the location, type and amount of development that will take place in the East Riding up to 2029, including new homes, shops and businesses.

The council has recently published the Draft Sustainable Transport Supplementary Planning Document, March 2014, and accompanying Sustainability Appraisal Scoping Report for public consultation. The closing date for responses is Monday, 4 August.

The draft document provides guidance about :

- travel planning, parking provision and design
- producing a travel plan and when a travel plan is needed
- appropriate levels of parking on new developments.

You can view the Draft Sustainable Transport SPD in the following ways :

- on the planning portal website at <http://eastriding.limehouse.co.uk/portal/>
- download or view it at www.eastriding.gov.uk/environment/planning-and-building-control/east-riding-local-plan/supplementary-planning-documents/
- in all customer service centres and main libraries.

Greater flexibility for business premises to change their use

Those who took part in the recent planning liaison meetings will have heard about changes introduced by the Government to give greater flexibility for businesses and farmers to make changes of use without a planning application.

Generally the changes will still require an application for Prior Approval. In some cases the only requirement is to notify the council of the proposed change. Where Prior Approval is required, the council can only consider and assess the specified matters to be considered, such as flooding and traffic impact.

The changes are quite complex, but the council recognises their importance to businesses and recently sent a guidance note to town and parish councils to help councillors understand the new flexibilities. The general guidance is only a summary of the changes permitted and cannot provide a definitive explanation of the detailed restrictions and qualifications that apply.

EAST RIDING
OF YORKSHIRE COUNCIL

Premises Licences for village halls

The Licensing Act 2003 brought in a complete change to the licensing of regulated entertainment. Since it was implemented, in 2005, there have been a number of changes that impact on village halls and community venues.

The changes include a relaxation of the need for licences for some types of events taking place between 8am and 11pm on any day:

- a play in the presence of an audience of 500 or less
- an indoor sporting event in the presence of an audience of less than 1,000
- dances for fewer than 500
- some types of live music.

Margaret Kirk of Humber and Wolds Rural Community Council can give advice about these changes and other issues affecting village halls and community venues. You can contact her at margaret.kirk@hwrcc.org.uk or call (01430) 430904.

Organising a voluntary event

You may not have come across this straight-forward Cabinet Office guide to organising a voluntary event.

Crime Reduction Fund

The police and crime commissioner has launched a £1.5 million fund open to voluntary and community groups and organisations in the East Riding of Yorkshire. Approximately £235,000 will be available each year for the next four years for small-scale projects that will provide sustainable answers to local problems that help and reduce crime.

The funding can be used for capital and revenue projects and cover a range of activities, such as targeted crime reduction and community safety initiatives, capacity-building, raising awareness, training and research and buying equipment and materials.

Proposals must show they support the priority outcomes set out in the Police and Crime Plan 2013-2017 for Humberside. Applications can be submitted at any time throughout the year and will be assessed at set times during the year. More information is available at www.humberside-pcc.gov.uk/Plans-and-Policies/Crime-Reduction-Fund.aspx

Let's Get Moving

This mobile health programme has been developed by the sport, play and arts service to promote independence, increase activity levels and reduce isolation by offering quality, fun and informal activity sessions across the East Riding for adults 50+ and adults with a disability.

The activities are offered to a group as one-off taster sessions, usually one hour long. If successful, a six-week block of activities can be offered. All of the sessions are free-of-charge and all equipment is provided. The sessions can take place in a variety of locations like village halls, sheltered housing and care homes.

There is a wide range of activities, including new-age kurling, soft bowls (boccia), skittles, sitting-down volleyball and tennis, fun golf and golf-putting. Art and craft examples include card-making, painting, clay modelling and jewellery making. There are other activities like fun quizzes, giant Connect 4 and Jenga.

The programme includes 'Mature Mayhem', a fun programme that brings older people together, rediscovering their playful nature. All activity sessions offered are designed to be relaxed and to suit all ability levels and can be tailored to include what activities the group wants from the list provided.

If your group or village would be interested in booking a taster session please contact Sarah Johnson at sarah.johnson@eastriding.gov.uk or call (01482) 392526.

Walking for Health

The sport, play and arts service works with volunteer walk leaders to offer 60 walks per month in a variety of locations across the East Riding. Walks range from 30 minutes upwards and are part of the National Walking for Health programme operated by Macmillan Cancer Care and the Ramblers Association.

Walks are free-of-charge and for all ages and abilities, aimed at anyone who has an interest in walking or wants to slowly introduce exercise into their daily routine as part of rehabilitation from illness, injury or to get fit. For more information, contact Laura Hutchinson at laura.hutchinson@eastriding.gov.uk or call (01482) 392527.

In Beverley, 30-minute walks are planned for the first Wednesday in the month, and 45-minute walks on 16 July and 20 August, from Beverley Leisure Complex. After the walk there is a chance to socialise and have refreshments. For more information, contact Adam Gibson at adam.gibson@eastriding.gov.uk or call (01482) 392528.

Putting patients first

The Clinical Commissioning Group, who organise the delivery of NHS services in East Yorkshire, is holding this event on Wednesday, 16 July, 9.30am-3.30pm, at KC Stadium.

They are inviting the public to help them shape their work in response to the Francis Inquiry Report, which examined the causes of failings in care at Mid-Staffordshire Hospital.

To find out more and book a place, phone Kayleigh Gregory on (01482) 672052 or visit www.surveymonkey.com/s/HullandERYFrancisReportBookingForm

Local Link Network event

ERVAS is holding a networking and information event for voluntary and community groups on Tuesday, 15 July, from 10:30am - 1pm, at St. Nicholas Community Centre, Holmechurch Lane, Beverley.

The event will include an update on the work of the network and ERVAS, funding updates and how to attract and keep volunteers. There will also be a networking lunch.

For more information, contact Fiona Turner at fiona@ervas.org.uk

Stamford Bridge Community Pool

The volunteers who run this local facility are celebrating their success in Engage Mutual's National Grant Award Campaign.

Their bid competed with many others and depended upon public voting. Over 500 people logged on to support the bid, getting them enough votes to win their grant bid of £2,666.40.

You can read more at www.engagemutual.com/foundation/

WREN Fund closure

If your council was thinking about making an application, you need to know that the landfill site at Gallymoor is closing in terms of eligibility for those within a 10 mile radius of the sites to apply for WREN grants.

There is just one final window of opportunity in this location to apply - applications should be received by no later than 6 August 2014.

Yorkshire Waterways Museum

The museum is looking for volunteers who want to help it conserve the collection's and communicate the heritage of the waterways and docks that have been at the heart of Goole for two hundred years. Contact (01405) 768730 or email dominic@waterwaysmuseum.org.uk

Giant Community Day

Market Weighton is again holding its 'big' day. On Sunday, 13 July, the High Street and Market Place will be closed for a free, fun, family event from 11-4pm. The main arena in the Market Place will host continuous entertainment, finishing with a giant interpretation of 'Last Night at the Proms' from the award-winning East Yorkshire Brass Band.

As well as Vulcan, the giant robot, there will be two buskers from Covent Garden, a fabulous steam engine, gun-dog training, entertainment featuring Punch and Judy, the children's fair, and story-telling with a different show every hour. There will also be the Brandesburton and Leven Baton Twirlers, singing from Weighton Waites, the army's giant climbing wall, a giant penalty shootout to celebrate the 2014 FIFA World Cup final, later in the evening, and a bouncy castle. As well as local stalls, many shops and cafes will be open.

On the same day, the annual 'Hog on the Humber' event will see 800 Harley Davidson motorbikes raising money for charity. They will parade through Market Weighton at around 10.30am.

Roos and District Horticultural Society Show

The 72nd Annual Show will take place on Saturday, 12 July on the Roos playing Field. There will be charity, craft and table-top stalls, from 2pm, and sports, at 3pm. The cups will be awarded at 4pm by Phil White of BBC Radio Humberside.

Fire and Rain at Cherry Burton

On Saturday, 19 July, at 8pm, there will be a celebration of the music and songs of James Taylor and Carole King at the Village Hall. Musicians include Tom Townsend, Rich Adams, Mark Gordon, Mark Tilley and Bob Walker. There is more information at www.msmm.org.uk. Tickets are £10 from Beverley Tourist Information, Costcutter Cherry Burton and www.WeGotTickets.com. For phone reservations call Will Richardson on (01482) 665656 or 07814 608131.
